to get the right mail to the right people in the right places.

Irvine, California, May 14, 2007 – The Tech Factory™ has announced the success of Accelaflow software and OPEX 3690 Scanners in helping Select Portfolio Servicing (SPS), one of the largest servicers of subprime residential mortgage loans in the U.S., to route mail automatically to business units throughout the organization.

“In order to streamline our operations we needed a flexible workflow solution.” said Greg Ott, Director of Document Control for SPS. “The challenge was finding a solution that would automatically open mail, scan mail regardless of shape and size, route scanned images and seamlessly interface with SPS’s host system (MSP) in order to create tasks, track tasks and update key information.”

In March 2007, SPS implemented OPEX 3690 Scanners with Accelaflow software. With OPEX and Accelaflow, SPS is able to scan all mail and automatically route it to multiple departments throughout the organization. Since the entire application is web-based, business units in Salt Lake City and Jacksonville can review documents, create tasks and track documents.

“Accelaflow did a great job of integrating all the way through to archiving images to our repository.” said Ott. “They had an excellent reputation and the price point was extremely competitive.”
